General Description:

VoiceNotes is an iOS mobile application that allows users highlight the most important parts of an audio recording and share it with their friends. Our target market are college students who usually record long lectures and have no way of going to the most important parts of the lecture.

VoiceNotes has the following functionalities:

- Users can tap on their phone to create a visual bookmark
- Users can add text and pictures to the bookmark
- Users can trim the most important parts of their bookmark at a later time
- Users can log into our server to share the recordings with their friends
- Users can upload their recordings to our server
- Users can delete their local copy
- Users can download the copy of their recording in the server to their iPhone
