

Beckman Research Institute of City of Hope

Bioinformatics Core Facility

in collaboration with

University of California, Santa Cruz

Invites You to a Seminar & Computer Hands-on Training Presented by

“UCSC Genome Browser Workshop”

Instructor:

Robert Kuhn, PhD, Associate Director
UCSC Genome Browser Project
University of California Santa Cruz Genomics Institute

Thursday, December 6, 2018

Overview – Part I

2:00 pm – 5:00 pm

Argyros Auditorium

&

Friday, December 7, 2018

Computer Hands-on Workshop – Part II

9:00 AM to 5:00 PM

Conference Room B

For additional information, including a schedule, location map
& registration instructions, please visit our

Registration link for Overview Lecture – Part I

&

Registration link for Computer Hands-on workshop – Part II

Location:

City of Hope
1500 E. Duarte Road, Duarte, CA 91010

Contact:

Yate-Ching Yuan, Ph.D. Director
Bioinformatics Core Facility
626-218-3161

PLEASE NOTE: Workshop is free but registration required. We encourage people to bring their own laptop which we will provide electric and internet connection during computer hands-on. Please arrive 15 mins before each session for setup your own computer access. Space is limited based on order of the registration.

Light refreshments will be served.